Junior Business Developer / Sales Executive

UK National £Attractive + car + phone + benefits

We have an exciting opportunity for an enthusiastic, self motivated individual to join the expanding team of a global company who specialise in waste management & recycling solutions.

The successful candidate will be responsible for managing their own time and selling the services of our client across various UK regions, which will then be reported back to the base in Sweden. Knowledge of the waste industry; RDF/SRF and recycling would be advantageous and a strong, proven sales background is required, you also must hold a full UK driving licence and be confident managing your own workload and time.

Full back up and support will be offered in order for the successful candidate to gain traction, after which you will be expected to work unsupervised. This is a role for a true self-starter.
