

Globally renowned renewable energy consultancy Country Manager – France

Key Purpose of the role

To manage the French office of this highly regarded renewable energy consultancy. Managing and leading a technical team you will develop the organisation's wind energy and solar business in France.

In addition you will ensure the office is running smoothly and all administrative aspects are managed in line with the group's requirements.

Principle Accountabilities

Technical

- Undertake technical due diligence services which include – contract reviews, financial model reviews, statistical analysis and production of high quality technical reports
- You will be required to meet new and existing clients to develop business opportunities
- Activity will mainly be focussed in France, but may also include other French speaking countries e.g. Morocco
- Managing multiple projects to ensure they are completed within timescale and budget
- Any other duties as directed by line manager

Management of Office

- Market the functions of the team and the Company to potential new and existing customers.
- Supervise and manage existing successful technical team. You will be involved in providing advice and guidance to team members, undertaking yearly appraisals and working with team members to develop skills and adopt best practice techniques
- Expansion of the team (recruiting of additional staff members)
- You will be required to monitor staff utilisations levels, offering advice and assistance identifying improvements
- Responsible for monitoring the P&L of the office, ensuring targets are met ensuring revenue is optimised and expenditure minimised

CV

Facts and figures

- Direct reports: 8/9 team members
- Pre-agreed authorisation levels for contracts, purchases and other commitments
- Responsible for preparing accounts and forecasts, reporting to line manager
- P & L budget responsibility

Knowledge, skills and experience

On appointment:

- Substantial experience of managing and leading projects, for wind/solar development, including due diligence work
- Previous experience of managing and supervising a team
- Strong analytical skills and an aptitude for analysing statistical data
- Excellent organisational and time management skills as you will be required to co-ordinate running the office and handling multiple projects
- Ability to write and compose clear and accurate reports in French and English
- Ability to work in a pressurised consultancy environment – operating to tight timescales

Desirable:

- Exposure and familiarity with both wind and solar energy in France