

Head of Safety, Health and Environment
North West/UK Coverage £Excellent + Car & bonus

---

Our client, a leader in heavy industrial engineering and waste sector, require an experienced, engaging and influential senior SHE Manager to join their team based in the North West however, extensive travel across the UK will be required.

The role will focus on building a mature safety culture and you will work pro-actively with all managers to establish and maintain continual SHE improvements, provide expertise and direction in relation to capital projects, including site developments and installation of new plant equipment, inspire and mentor SHE team members. You provide a professional supporting service in relation to incident investigation and rectification of non-compliance reported by employees, external consultants and regulators, as well as other duties.

In order to be considered, you will hold a degree/diploma in occupational safety and health, environmental science or management, possess detailed understanding of the safety and health risks and regulatory regimes in relation to recycling, industrial machinery, plant and transport safety and of the environmental regulatory regime.

---

For full details, please send an email with job ref: RB2053 quoted and your CV attached to Rebecca@candovergreen.com

Candover
Green