

ELV Business Unit Manager North West/Midlands

£Attractive

We are working with a UK Leader in recycling and industrial engineering, who have the requirement for an experienced ELV Business Unit Manager, to be based in the North West or Midlands. Your role will be to implement value added sales channels for vehicles and parts proactively whilst working with a number of suppliers and taking on responsibility for; negotiating commercial arrangements and developing relationships that deliver best value and regulatory compliance, create, inspire and develop a team that specialises in supporting the growth of ELV function, define the commercial strategy for increasing the capture of ELV's at improved margins and work with operational and engineering colleagues to develop our client's processing capabilities.

The successful candidate will have knowledge of the UK ELV section and regulations, be commercially astute and capable of enhancing sales channels and taking responsibility for P&L performance, be experienced in acquiring ELVs and/or managing the recycling process and be analytically strong, with experience of responding to tenders and contract management.

To register your interest and find out the full specifications email Rebecca@candovergreen.com stating Job Ref: RB2054

Candover
Green