

Mobile Service Engineer

London

£Competitive

Our client, a multidisciplinary services and energy company have an immediate requirement for an experienced Service Engineer to carry out Planned Preventative and Reactive maintenance within a number of Commercial Plant rooms and residential properties associated with the key delivery of their contracts, and will also have specific responsibility for looking after and maintaining the assets associated with the distribution and delivery of communal heating throughout connected buildings and being part of a wider team where you will ensure high levels of service delivery and investigations leading to responsive repairs and a number of other varied duties and tasks.

The successful candidate will have experience of new build residential projects including communal heating systems, HIU's and CHP operations, have a full UK driving licence as that is essential, C&G/NVQ qualification in either Electrical, Mechanical or HVAC with relevant on the job experience and have strong customer facing skills.

For all details email your CV to craig@candovergreen.com with the job ref: CM2111 stated.

Candover
Green