

Environmental Data Analyst

Yorkshire

£Attractive

---

We are working with an established environmental consultancy who, have, an exciting opportunity for an experienced data analyst to join their fun and rapidly expanding team based in the North. You will take on a number of responsibilities, including but not limited to; manage/analyse large data sets, provide technical legislative support to existing and prospective customers, account manage and build relationships with new and existing customers and complete admin tasks associated with account management.

The ideal candidate must have a UK driving licence, be educated to degree level as a minimum, have strong IT skills with expert knowledge of MS Excel and be excited by data with a logical and methodical approach to data analysis.

---

For full details email your CV to Rebecca@candovergreen.com quoting job ref: RB2251

