

Commercial Solar PV Design Manager
Nationwide (Home Based) £-excellent

I am working with a leading, global low-carbon energy and services company who have a new role available for a Commercial Solar PV Design Manager. The main purpose of the role is to lead design from outline business case through to construction of Solar PV / Battery Storage Systems. Your role will be but not limited to; Agree appointment and scope of service for Design Team alongside Pre-construction Manager; Review design management protocols with Design Coordinator / Assistant Design Coordinator; Clear communication of expectations for design deliverables with designers; Commission required surveys/reports; Review compliance with all relevant regulations/legislation; Liaison with the Pre-Construction Manager for commercial costing activities; Liaison with the operational teams regarding buildability and logistics; Monitoring of design & resolution of technical queries; Review design deliverables and design programmes; Comply with document management protocols; Assist with procurement and construction programs; Chairing design team meetings; Lead Client meetings during Bid Phases. In order to be considered for the role you must be/have; Able to programme design works; Knowledge of methodology and sequencing process in delivering a construction project including design and pre-construction activities; Understanding of design requirements for procurement and construction purposes; Understanding of contractual requirements of the contracts; Ability to drive issues through to completion; Understanding of AutoCAD, PVSyst and Helioscope and advantage; Electrically Trained or knowledge of complex electrical systems relating to Solar PV; Up to date construction industry knowledge; Experience in Renewable Energy Schemes; Technical understanding of substructures, structures, services and finishes solutions; Knowledge of building regulations / sustainability; Previous management of design team; Industry accreditation / Qualifications; previous experience in a similar role.

For full details, please email a copy of your CV to rebecca@candovergreen.com
quoting job ref: RB2612

